

Information on Infants' TYLENOL®

Used by Moms & Recommended by Pediatricians

The makers of TYLENOL® have been helping moms bring “feel better” smiles to their kids for more than 50 years. Generations of moms have turned to INFANTS' TYLENOL® - the #1 pediatrician recommended brand - to help relieve their children's pain and reduce fever.

How does Infants' TYLENOL® help my child feel better?

When it comes to reducing fever or relieving pain in children, Infants' TYLENOL® is recommended by pediatricians and is also gentle on your little one's tummy.

Infants' TYLENOL® is indicated to:

- Temporarily relieve minor aches and pains due to the common cold, flu, headache, sore throat and toothache.
- Temporarily reduce fever.

Infants' TYLENOL® can be used for infants who are allergic to aspirin or have the flu or chicken pox.

How old does my child have to be to take Infants' TYLENOL®?

Infants' TYLENOL® is appropriate for children 2-3 years of age. If your child is under two years of age you should talk to your pediatrician about individual dosing for your baby. Kids over the age of 2 can also take Children's TYLENOL®.

How do I know how much Infants' TYLENOL® to give my child?

It's important to make sure you're giving the right dose for your child's weight and age, so follow the dosing instructions on the label.

If you have any questions about dosing or giving your child an over the counter medicine, it is important to consult your pediatrician.

What else do I need to know about Infants' TYLENOL®?

Like any other over the counter medicine, Infants' TYLENOL® has a drug facts label that contains complete information about the product, including warnings and directions for use. Please always read and follow the label.
